Involuntary Detention and Therapeutic Jurisprudence

International Perspectives on Civil Commitment

Edited by Kate Diesfeld, Auckland University of Technology, New Zealand and Ian Freckelton, Monash University, Australia

'The quality of research and writing, and breadth of relevant backgrounds and experience of the authors will quickly establish this volume as a new "classic" in the field to all those interested in the protection of fundamental human rights, and the treatment with dignity of those with mental illnesses and intellectual disabilities.'

John Lesser, President, Mental Health Review Board of Victoria, Melbourne, Australia

'This is an absolutely first-rate book on civil commitment...Kate Diesfeld and Ian Freckelton deserve high praise for producing an outstanding work that breaks new ground and promises to have lasting value in the field.'

Professor David B. Wexler, University of Arizona, USA and University of Puerto Rico, Puerto Rico

This insightful collection draws on contributors from the UK, the USA, Australia, the Netherlands, Canada and New Zealand, who share a commitment to evaluating whether the civil detention processes protect the liberty, dignity and justice interests of those with mental illnesses and intellectual disabilities.
