

Thank you for your interest in attending oral arguments before the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals at the James E. Rogers College of Law, Ares Auditorium (Room 164), on Tuesday, October 20, 2009, at 10:00 a.m. The panel will include Associate Justice Sandra Day O'Connor (Retired), Supreme Court of the United States, Chief Judge Alex Kozinski and Circuit Judge Sandra Segal Ikuta.

Following are key details pertinent to the Court's visit. Please read this memo in its entirety.

Security Protocol and Conduct Guidelines

- Please arrive early. Doors to the Ares Auditorium and the videostreaming room, Room 168, will open by 9:30.
- Those with confirmed reservations for the Ares Auditorium must check in first at the Lewis and Roca Lobby at Arizona Law.
- Bring the e-ticket sent with the reservation confirmation.
- University ID or other photo ID in the same name as that on the confirmation ticket is required.
- Each person entering the Ares Auditorium or the videostreaming room must go through security.
- No backpacks, purses, bags, laptops, or electronic equipment allowed (except cell phones, which must be turned OFF). There will not be a secured storage area for your belongings, so please make your own arrangements.
- Audience members may only enter or exit when the Court is not on the bench. Please maintain silence while the Court is in session.
- Please note that no food or drink will be allowed.
- At the end of the final argument, the judges will be available to answer general questions from audience members in the Ares Auditorium. While judges are prohibited from answering questions about pending cases, they can discuss Court operations and the decision-making process.

Courtroom attire required.

Appropriate attire would be slacks or khakis with long or short-sleeved shirt, blouse, polo shirt, or golf shirt. Please no

- t-shirts with slogans or pictures,
- shorts,
- tank tops,
- hats, or
- sunglasses.

Cancellations / No show policy. If you have a reservation, but are not able to attend, please cancel your reservation by contacting Donna Ream at (520) 626-1629 or via email at ream@law.arizona.edu to allow others to attend. Those with reservations but who do not attend will not have further reservation privileges at Rehnquist Center events this academic year.

Cases to be heard:

ASU Students for Life v. Crow, in which the Arizona State University Students for Life appeal from the Arizona district court's summary judgment in its action challenging the constitutionality of ASU's insurance requirement for off-campus groups or entities and ASU's "one-zone" reservation requirement. Students for Life is an officially recognized student organization at ASU with a stated purpose of educating the student body about prolife issues from conception to natural death. ASU requires liability insurance for any event involving a third party on campus.

Case 08-15905

Gonzalez v. State of Arizona, in these consolidated actions, plaintiffs sought declaratory and injunctive relief barring enforcement of the voting-related provisions of the Arizona Taxpayer and Citizen Protection Act, enacted as Proposition 200 by the state's voters in 2004. Prop. 200 requires proof of citizenship to register to vote and proof of identification to vote in person on election day. Plaintiffs alleged that the requirements violated the Equal Protection Clause. Plaintiffs appeal from the Arizona district court's summary judgment and bench trial judgment.

Cases 08-17094, 08-17115

Briefs are on reserve at the Daniel F. Cracchiolo Law Library. The Ares Auditorium is at capacity. Live videostreaming will be available in Room 168 on a first-come, first-served basis.

The Court's visit to Arizona Law has been coordinated by the Rehnquist Center, a non-partisan center that honors the legacy of Chief Justice Rehnquist by encouraging public understanding of the role of the judicial branch on our system of government.